Wine description and information

The classic Chardonnay is here presented in a different version, thanks to the particular vinification, named "Villa Schmid", that it receives. This process consists of two important steps: the fermentation of the Chardonnay grapes in wooden barrels and the aging in steel tanks and barrique. The result is a chardonnay with a bright yellow colour. In the nose, it has a balanced scent of pear and vanilla received from the aging in barrique, while in the mouth, it offers a fruity taste followed by a long finish.

Pairings

Mediterranean dishes with fish, or even others tastier dishes, can be the perfect pairing for this white wine. Its ideal service temperature is 10°.
